

'Diet & Nutrition for the Cancer Journey'

Saturday, October 4, 2025 | 8 - 11 a.m.

Sullivan Conference Center
at the University of Hawai'i Cancer Center
701 Ilalo Street, Honolulu, HI 96813
Free admission

Discover how diet and nutrition play a vital role in supporting all cancer patients. Learn from nationally recognized researchers at the University of Hawai'i Cancer Center and community partners who are at the forefront of innovative studies aimed at improving patient care and outcomes. Let's eat healthfully!

- ✓ Learn about nutrition's role in cancer care
- ✓ Explore innovative research and cultural insights
- ✓ Connect with supportive community organizations
- ✓ View a live cooking demonstration
- ✓ Access local farmers' resources
- ✓ Meet cancer survivors and others in Hawai'i's cancer community

GUEST SPEAKERS

'Nutrition: a Patient and Cultural Practitioner Perspective'
Sharon Ka'iulani Odom, RD, MPH
Executive Director
Hawai'i Good Food Alliance

Cooking Demonstration
Tammy Mahealani Smith
Native Hawaiian Chef and Cultural Practitioner

Register by October 1 to attend in person or online:
go.hawaii.edu/rKe

UNIVERSITY OF HAWAI'I
CANCER CENTER

Saving Lives in Hawai'i and the Pacific